THE LABOR HILL.

THE LABOR BILL.

The anti-foreign contract labor bill was then pleed before the senate.

Miller of New, York supported the bill, and opposed the pending motion, which would strike or the clauses prescribing penalties for violations of the law. He was in full sympathy with the bill. It simply meant that white slavely should not any longer to tolerated in this county. European dountries had been for your change their papers and climinats upon our shores, and the laffler was coming when we should have to pass stringent measures to profect ourselves. We could not afford to leave our pris open to such importations. We should not neglect to inquire as to the character of every person coming here.

Housen did not wish to see a had precedent established—a precedent that might lead hereafter to the passage of a law runsing, to colored men the right to come from the south to the method and the result of the passage of a law runsing of the north world never pass a law to interfers, with the coming of any class of people who should come of heir own free will and were not criminals of puppers.

VEST'S REMARKS.

Sherman, kerrais to vest.

Sherman, intering the character, said he understood during his momentary absence that the senator from Missouri (Vest) had alluded to him is connection with the net to encourage immigration, passed in July, 18 is. That act, Sherman said, was a temponry questure. The senion from Missouri (Vest) outhit to have remembered that at the date of its passage this cantry was engaged in the most momorable druggle of history. Our labor had been taken from our longest part down a formidable rebe lion. The gentleman from Missouri was not that time-aware of the motives that influenced congress in that act. He (Vest) was engaged in an attempt to break up this government. The set takened to was one of the means enced congress in that act. He (Nest) was enced aged in an attompt to break up this government. The act referred to was one of the means designed by congress to meet that emergency. It passed both houses of congress unanthously, receiving the vote of every republican and every temocrat in both houses. Soon after the war i to get was repealed, it having been only a temporary measure, allowing the passage noney of the immigrant to be returned out of, his carnings within welve months. Sherman thought is would be well for Vest, before he armigned for inconsistency either Sherman for the republicant party, to recall the circumstances in which it is country was situated at the time the bill passed. All the measures that had been passed for the protection of our laboring men. Sherman said, had emanated from the republican party to relevate and build up the hidoring men of this country, and to build up the industries of the country, so we may be independent of foreign taking, so we may be independent of foreign taking, so we may be independent of foreign taking, so we may be independent of foreign taking to the republicant from this (Sherman) bods personnt ablaction to him (Vest) and his acture during the vent, he (Vest) would on year that, whatever may be the epinton of others in that regard, he had nothing legitimate to do with this discussion. It had nothing legitimate to do with this discussion of the Cest had only stated, what he had because he had heard the senator from this islent may be the epinton of others in that regard, he had no stated what he had because he had heard the senator from this islent may be the epinton of others in that regard, he had no stated what he had because he had heard the senator from this controlled when he thought the emergency stiffed it. That principle had been engrafted in the telepholen party to meet the coningencies of war. In other words, he adopted to make the actual was anythed and the emergency stiffed it. That principle had been engrafted in the recised statutes, and that state acting under authority of aw, who should indice immigration, nor to any person who, it good faith, should assist families to come to the United States.

Morgan and George took diametrically opposite vews as to the necessity for this amendment. Morgan insisted it was necessary, while George contended that the bill already permitted the filings that Morgan desires to provide for Morgan said the bill was so imperfect that the bar of the United States would laugh at it should it become a law in its present form.

Williams opposed the bill, and Blair defended it.

In the pinth comms report a map was lished which represented the province of Lou-islana, commonly known as the Louislana purchase, acquired from France in 1803, as stretching from the Mississipp river to the Pacific ocean! Several compilers of school history adopted that man and thus have been teaching that Creach was included in the territory co ered by the Louisiana purchase. General F. A. explained that the reason of childrening chequate in this territory, "or rather for allowing the map which Colonel Stocking had prepared to go into the work without porrection in this paricular, was that the United States government had made allow to Creench by sixty of the Louisian purihas coincided with the opnous map. But the riew is widerthy erron cons. Or John J. Anderson, the author of several school histories, has published a pamphlet correcting the error, and setting forth in a concise but comprehensive negotiator of the theaty on the part of Napoleon by which our government acquired Louisana, that the French nere owned any part of North America west of the Rocky mountains. It is plain that "France could not sell to the United States in 1693 more than sile recovered from Spain in 1806. It our negotiations with Spain commenced in Macrid in 1804, for the adjustment of the lines which were to separate the terri orise of the two governments, Spain contended, as Greenow in his history of Oregon and California says, that "the Louislann coded to Spain by France in 1822 and returned to France in 1825, and transferred by the latter power to the United States in 1803, could not in justice be cons dered as comprising more than New Orleans, with the tract in its vicinity east of the Missispip, and the country immediately bordering on the west bank of that river." and in 1818 up to the close of the long pending nego-"the western boundary of Louisiana is, right-felty, the Rio Brayo, from its mouth to its source, and thence along the highlands and mountains dividing the waters of the Mississippi from those of the Facific. On the waters of the Pacific we can found no claim in right of Louis-Facine we can found no claim in right of Louis-iana." "The sheres of the western ocean,' says Marbois, "were cartainly not included in the cession of Louis and to the United States." In this conclusion, hat no part of the territory west of the Becky mountains came to us by reason of the Louisians porchase, Dr. Johnson says all States to Oregon was the discovery of the Co-lumbia river and its exploration by Captain lumbia civer and its exploration by Caylain Robert Gray in 1791. From that time, or a period four or five years later, the direct trade between the northwest coast of North Americanad China was almost entirely in the hands of the Americans. The second element in our title was the exploration of this region by Lewis and Clayfe, which, has Gree now says, "was an announcement to the work of the intentior of the Americans." announcement to the work of the intentior of the American government to occupy and settle the countries explored, to which certainly hoother naticu, except Spain, could advance so, atrong a claim on the ground of discovery of contiguity." The third was the Astor settlement, which has been admitted by all parties to have been the first in all the Oregon region. And this, against Great Britain, completed and make perfect the United States tile to the Oregon on the principle had done by the Medican in got on the principle had down by Jefforson in his letter to Mr. Mellsh, "that when a civilized nation takes possession of the month of a river in a new country, that possession is considered as including all its waters." The final element as including all its waters." The final element in the Urited States' title to the Oregon region was the reason made by Spain in the Florida treaty of 1819 of all rights, claims and pretension to any territory on the Pacific coast north of the forty-second parallel.

In this defining the grounds of our title to Oregon Dr. Johnson exactly follows. John Outhery Adams, who wrote to Mr. Rueb our en-

Quincy A dams, who wrote to Mr. Rush, our en-voy to Great Rritain in 1-23, saying that "the right of the United States to the Columbia river and to the interfor territory washed by its waters resus (1.) upon its discovery from the sea and nonqualion by a citizen of the United States, (2.) upon its exploration to the sea by Lewis & Garke (3.) upon the set lement of Astona, made under the pre-ection of the United States, and (4) upon the subsequent acquestion of all States and Great Britain, respecting the sover which that purchase sustained to our possession of Oregon. This point, however, is made very clear by Mr. Birine in "Twenty Years of congress." In speaking of the importance and value of the Louisiana purchase, the largest conquest of carrifory ever peaceful, achieved, Mr. Blame says that the Oregon country was not included in the transfer. "The Louisiana purchase did not extend beyond the main range of Idaho, rests upon a different foundation the Cohmbia river by an American cavigator in/1702, second by original exploration in 1805; third, by original settlement in 1810 by the enterprising company of whic. John Jacob Astor-was the head, and lastly, and principally, by the transfer of the Spanish title in 1812, many years after the Louislana perchase was accomplished. It is not, however, probable that we should have been able to maintain our title to Oregon if we had not secured the intervening country. It was certainly our purchase of Louthe Cohumbia river by an American navigat Oregon if we had not secured the intervening country. It was certainly our purchase of Louisians that enabled us to secure the Spanish ittle to the shores of the Pacific, and without that title we readd hardly have maintained our taken. As agains Ergland our title seemed to us to be perfect, but as against Spain our case was not so strong. The purchase of Louisiana may therefore be fairly said o have carried with it and secured to us possession of Oregon."

It is probable that the immigrant business will be larger this year than any former than in one day, says the Chicago anter-Ocean, no less than 2000 prepaid orders for passages from Europe to Chicago were soil in that city alone. These were at $17 for the stramer passage from the exchunel of Europe to New York to Chicago One of the weak steam lines is seling at $6. These prepaid passages are good for all the year, and if the compan es yere to advance their rates next week the people for shom the prepays were issued will be carried at the price for which they contracted, that is, $11 from Europe to (breage.

A CHAPTER OF ERRORS

PRESCOT, W. T., Feb. 15, 1865
TO THE EDITOR OF THE ORTHONIAN
But for my early 'speday school training, I fear I should have dropped into profanity on reading my article in The (manonian of February 13, entitled "The Whitinan Controversy" I took extens name in preparing the manuscript. I took extee pains in preparing the manuscript, and had the printer ollowed the "copy," I would have been satisfied and pleased. I mentioned the obstruction of the mail service, the printer has it "the abstraction of the mail service" My second softence read "My com-numeration to This Orngolders of Recember 12 was written more for the purpose of rejelling unjust the riges, as I believed them to be, made unjust the trees, as I believed them to be, made by Mrs \ c or against the lamented Dr. Whitn an, lan wil h a view of establishing a historical fact.\(^1\) The printer leaves int the word "than" and thus goods thesense of the sentince I apeak of negotilateons for settling the Oregon boundary; the printer put the selling the Oregon boundary; I gave the state of a letter from the Rby. C. Sells on myself he "Jan is, 1885;" Considering time to be the equivalent of money, the printer, with a generosity tharacteristic of the craft," three in five months and made the date of this letter "Jane 15." He showed a like generosity in the dena-tion of time, when he set the date of the Bay. B. H. Spalding's shead fron January 9, 1885, to "June b' I wrote "To my mind this sottles the question of credibility in favor of Mr. Bella, if, indeed there has been such a question in the hind of any, other than Mr. Evans." The types say: "Any lof them. Mr. Evans." If tyrote "With a full-knowledge of these rea-sons for secresy, Mr. Evans calls loudly for written proofs," et. The brinter has substi-uted "service" for "secresy!" I speak of hr. Barrows as "teaching in Ist. Louis" The printer has him "trading in St. Louis". I men-tion br. Whitman as changing suddle for stage, "but the printer say in the hart of change "stages". To wine up this chapter of errors, the printer takes my first name and begows it on my worthy antagonat in this controversy. the printer takes my first name and bestows it on my worthy antagonist in this controversy, and rechristens him the "Hon. Ldocrd kyans," while I am compensated for this oss-of the front end of my hand; by the printer, when he sandwiches a hig T between the imitals in my signature.

You see I lay the blame where it rightfully belongs—on the printer, for it is plain that no proof reader ever handled he proof sheets.

and seriously maintained in more than one disputed case, viz., that the agent or solution was the agent of the assured and not of the company for the purposes of that transaction, I would have him receive credit for the gavance, short as panies should look with complacency on any legislation having in view the restriction of their panies should look with compacency on any legislation having in view he restriction of their newer or privileges; conscious that it is always within their power to do justice, perhaps having a sincere desire todo se, been the in it honorable and liberal among their cannot see any wrong in the fact of their holding in their own hands the terms and mode of settlement, while in the fact that the value of the property remains attagen question to be determined after the destriction by fire, "cinching" companies, presponsible agents and clever ad usters see their advantage.

What is wanted by the public and intended by the propeed law is that insurere shall be just rather than "libers," a receipt in full of all demands under the terms of a policy is a much better voucher than a card of thanks for liberal settlement, although the latter may be more available for advertising purposes.

In my allusion to marine insurance it was plainly indicated that reference was had to insurance on cargo rather than on hulls, and while I do not like to intimate a lack of candor in the compact manager in ignoring this fact, it is only fair to meaff to direct attention to the is other law on the second and the case. I cannot see that the comparison is an unfair one.

I cordially sympathize, with the manager's solicitude for public morals, and am as anxious'as be that the element of gambling should be as thoroughly as possible eluminated from the business' of insurance. To this end I would have the law so framed that it will not be so easy as liberatofre for u secrupulous then to effect excessive insurance upon their buildings, making it to their indirect to burn out rather than sell out, trusting to the chances of their being able to beat the adjuster in the long run. It cannot be demost that a large amount of this class of insurance will be cut off under a valued policy law, since the companies having assumed a definite responsibility cannot calculate upon their chances of squeezing the loss in the adjustment, and for this reason will no longer, for the sake of enlarged premiums, continue to carry such accessive insurance. If there were in this state a "society for, the suppression of gambling," I should expect to see them laboring for the passage of this bill.

The compact manager is unfortunate in his citation of the "plain p incupie of law," since the instory of the country is full of instances where the legislature and the courts have interfered in behalf of "public policy" to modify contracts, to restrict he powers and to define the duties of corpyrations and individuals who occupy politions with reference to the general public analogous to that of his association and its members, and when a power is exercised as it undentably is in many instances to the prejudice of honest and dapable against, by a judicious selection of visks and a generally conservative policy to amply protect the machally sugainst all the dangers which are such a bug-to "the skill of; the "adjuster for their protection" from ulterior consequences, will, finding their wings clipped by the exactment of the pending bill into a law see fit to withdraw rom the business in the state; but that those companies who have made it their ruis to do a safe and houest business, and there are many such companies, will fin I their interests or just rights impaired. I do no believe. Whether they will accept the situation or blindly follow the lead of their less reputable competitors, is for them to decide, but WE SHALL SEE General Rosecrans, who was one of the soro reverse history as he was incompetent to com-nand at Chican augs. In his speech in the louse against the bill to place Grant on the relouse against the billeto place Grant on the redred Lat of the aymy, be said it was "not his insuition to recoun historical reasons why Grant's reputation had been energy-rated." This was rent considerate. Had sinch been his "intention" ne-would n "cessarily have been led into a comparison of the results at Chicamauka, where he commanded, with those at Mission Ridge, where Grant commanded; and the effort to "recoun; the reason." would have been troubsome and en barnessing. Bosecrans, since his nicks acity as a commander drove him out of the atmy, has developed, as was natural to such a army, has developed, as was natural to such a man, into querulous bourbon democrat, so musman, the queruious bour poin democrate, so mos-sed in its judgments is to suppose he can re-reres listory by p tung simashi up and pulling Grant down. THE BURNATUR OFFRAGE AT WHATCHES The telegram published elsewhere in this morning's GREGORIAN does not give a cause, or an alleged CREGORIAN does not give a cause, or an alleged cause, for desiroying Mr. Stenger's house with dynamic. It is probably the result of a land quarted which has been in existence for some years. The title to ceptain land held by the Washington fo only was disputed by a large number of settlers who occupied it after it had been taken up and afterward temporarity abandoned by the colony. It will be remembered that each up and afterward temporarity abandoned by the colony. It will be remembered that therefore to externinate the colony with rifles unless certain concessions were made to them. They it eld a meeting and invited one of the Stenger brothers to address them. Speaking for the colony, he declined to comply with their demands, whereupon he was setzed and held in captivity and another throther went to Sacrite' and ruleed the amount of money dranded. Some kind of a compromise was effected, and nothing further has been heard from the trouble until that night.

THE EAST SIDE. .

Shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out at the restience of Mrs. Garrigan, south side of D street, between Fourth and Fifth. She at once alarmed the neighborhood, but before neighbors could reach the engine house, Officer Jerelaman sighted the blaze and rang a general alarm. Foreanan Myers and one or two other members of Pioneer company soon arrived at the er gine bouse and took out one of the hose carts, but other firemen who responded made direct for the fire, and Officer Jerelaman, after ringing a second and a third alarm without the desired effect of bringing more men to the engine buses, tackled the second hose cart himself and took it to the fire, with the assistance of Geories, the colored roustabout, who but PARLY MORNING FIRE. the engine boses, tackled the second hose cart himself and took it to the fire, with the assistance of George, the colored roustabout, who put in an opportune appearance. Hydrant connections were made at Fourth and In and Fourth and E, but by the time water was obtained the building was gutted, and the thames had communicated to the cottages on either side, which are within slepping distance of the former. The efforts of the iremen were therefore directed toward saving the latter, and they jeuceseded admirably, preventing tamage beyond about $50 to each building. The fire was well handled by the hogemen, and they deserre credit for it. As shon as sufficient men could be obtained the engine was lugged to the scene, but it was entirely too subsequent. Mrs. jarrigan, with the assistance of neighbors, succeeded in saving most of her valuables, including lewelry and clothing, but nearly all her farriture was destroyed with the building. Mrs. jarrigan, who is in the habit of burning a laidy during the night, attributes the cause of the fire to the cat knocking over the lamp while attacking a beristeak which laid by its side. Lose on building is about $700, with $500 insurance. One of the sude buildings was uneccapied, and occupants of the other had their goods packed to remove that moraling, and the fire simply hadened their removal. The complications absence of officers, noticed in connection with the last fire, was repeated at this, Forestan Myers being the only officer present, as before. A tow members of Relief hook and ladder company were present and rendered assistance.

authorities who have failed to enforce the completion of the L'street improvement.

Certain parents, it appears, are in the habt of sending inpudents vertal messages by their children to the teachers in the public schools, subjecting them to corporal punishment. A case in point occurred receasily, wherein a mother, whose son had been punished for impertinence prompted by herselt, waited upon a teacher and threatened her with dire vengeance in the event of tepetition. She was consoled with the assurance that the punishment would be repeated in the event of a repeation of the impertinence. It is strange that parents should be so devoid of electory and respect as to conspire with their children to buildoze a teacher. Such conduct is explorary to the rules of the school, and entails subpension upon the offending jumps. If this administration of a teacher, is deemed unsatisfactory, refrees must be sought through the principal, or through the directors, by a written complaint filed with the clock.

THE STAGE.

EIRST MATINEE, AT THE TIVOLL,—The performance being really incritorious and the theater first class in management and detail, this absence of all objectionable features has increased the lady attendance with each succeeding enterthonent, and there is little doubt that the mathrees will become very popular. The "Serpent on the Hearth" this afternoon, and those who have not rest seen this theater would do well to satisfy their curlosity, for it is safe to predict they will be pleased.
